PTO Policy

1. Eligibility

Full-time employees are eligible for paid time off after their start date.

Part-time employees receive PTO only when their offer letter or local law requires it.

2. Annual PTO Amount

Full-time employees receive 20 PTO days per calendar year, equal to 160 hours.

New hires receive a prorated amount based on start date. PTO balances are shown in the HR system of record.

3. Request Process

Employees should submit PTO requests in the HR system at least 10 business days before planned time away when practical. The employee's manager reviews the request for team coverage, deadlines, and business impact.

4. Approval Authority

Only the employee's manager or a designated HR approver may approve PTO. The knowledge assistant, coworkers, and informal chat messages cannot approve PTO or override the HR system.

5. Escalation

Employees with questions about balances, leave laws, medical leave, or accommodation-related time away should contact HR. Managers should consult HR before denying complex leave requests.
